NATIONAL CIVIL SERVICE LEAGUE ANNUAL AWARDS

The National Civil Service League played a major part in drafting the Federal Civil Service System and the "spoils system" from government service. Past Presidents of the United States — Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, Wilson and Taft — have served on the League's Board of Directors. The League is the only organization of private citizens entirely devoted to improving the Federal Career Civil Service. Its annual awards to ten outstanding Civil Servants who have made major contributions to the Federal Government in their fields of endeavor are highly prized.

LAWRENCE R. HOUSTON

GENERAL COUNSEL CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

Mr. Lawrence R. Houston can lay claim to the title "Legal Architect of the CIA." He has been the General Counsel since the Agency's inception. He created the legal design for the Agency that was incorporated in the National Security Act of 1947 and led to the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949, legislation unique in concept which has stood the tests of the intervening years.

Mr. Houston is both a creator and a principal practitioner of "intelligence law." During 26 years' service beginning with OSS, he has demonstrated through his many contributions to the Agency, its predecessors and the nation that he has truly met the challenge of public service.
